

MILITIAMEN BACK, BETTER SOLDIERS

Harries and Brett Say Men
Have Improved 100 Per Cent.

One Untoward Incident in Discharge of Private Steele.

Washington welcomed its bronzed militiamen back to town yesterday. It was palpably evident that they enjoyed themselves and their health was improved by the two weeks' encampment. General Harries and Colonel Brett declare the militiamen have improved as soldiers fully 100 per cent. At the Florida avenue and New York avenue station of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, General Harries and the soldiers who remained at Camp Ordway were greeted by an enthusiastic and admiring crowd of men, women, girls, and children. They quickly disembarked and marched to their armories, where they were excused from further military service until next fall.

Welcome From Crowd.

An immense crowd also assembled at the South street wharf to receive the members of the Second Regiment, under Colonel Urell, who spent a most profitable week at Forts Washington and Mifflin, where they took up coast defense work. Colonel Urell, accompanied by his staff, including the adjutant, quartermaster, and other officers, arrived at the wharf at 10 o'clock and were met by a large number of the members of the Second Regiment and the members of the First Regiment, who were on duty at the wharf.

Before leaving Camp Ordway, the First Regiment and First Separate Battalion, Signal Corps, Ambulance Corps, Battery of Artillery, Brigade Band, and Corps of Field Musicians were paid for their camp services by Capt. Andrew Parker and Lieutenant Taylor.

Private Steele's Discharge.

When Harpers Ferry was reached, Private M. F. Steele, of Company E, First Regiment, was ordered to the front of the regiment and dishonorably discharged. He was convicted by a court-martial of having been guilty of conduct unbecoming a soldier and using profane and abusive language to his superior officer. Steele was placed aboard a train and kept under guard until he reached Washington. Escorted to his armory by the guard he surrendered his uniform and equipment and left the militia for all time.

Before daybreak the soldiers at Forts Washington and Mifflin were up and stirring. When reveille was sounded all was in readiness for the start. The Second Regiment and Company C of the First Regiment was marched down to the wharf and quickly embarked on the steamer Jane Moseley, which lay waiting for them. As the soldiers drew into the channel they were cheered to the echo and all but eaten up by the crowd which waited on the wharf.

Girls Announce Engagements Together—Fiances Both Football Players.

BOSTON, July 28.—After passing through the various successive stages of life, from the era of sticky sticks of candy and kindergartens to the dignity of young womanhood, hand in hand, so to speak, Bertha and Segrid Swenson, the twin daughters of Mrs. Bertha Swenson, of 18 Everett street, Melrose, have announced simultaneously their engagements.

The young women, who look alike, whose manners are similar, and whose "creations" have always been identical, almost seem to have been assisted once more in their selection when Little Dan passed the word along, for the fortunate young men in the case both answer to the first and second names of Frederick Allen.

One of these, Frederick Allen Fuller, of Chelsea, is employed by the Bay State Trust Company; the other, Frederick Allen Gower, of Wyoming Highlands, is a first officer on the El Rio of Uncle Sam's South Pacific fleet. Both were prominent in the high school days in their respective towns, and, strangely, were captains of their school football teams for two years.

The girls are well known in Melrose, where they were in the same classes in the grammar and high schools. The double announcement was an overwhelming surprise to their friends, none of whom had the slightest suspicion of the seriousness of the situation. The Misses Swenson absolutely refuse to tell when the probable double wedding will be celebrated.

In addition to the swim in the salt water the young visitors and their mothers will be given the right of way through all the amusements along the boardwalk and on the shore. This is the second of the series of three outings for the poor children that Mr. Waters promised to give during the summer.

When the third is given, the latter part of August, more than 1,500 poor children will have had the outing as his guests.

The Church of Pilgrims will consider on Thursday night the resignation of the Rev. Dr. J. W. Frizzell, recently called to the pastorate, and who it is developed afterward was the representative of O. H. Ingram, a Wisconsin millionaire. Mr. Ingram donated $40,000 to the Church of Pilgrims, but last week withdrew the gift on account of differences which have arisen between the members. It is hoped by the members that some compromise may be effected Thursday night and both Dr. Frizzell and the gift retained.

UNCLE SAM'S LAWN MOWED BY AUTO

New Power Machine Cuts
Forty Capitol Acres in Three Days.

Uncle Sam is now doing his grass cutting in the latest and most approved fashion, for, instead of depending on the old style scythe or even the hand lawn mower, he has taken to the automobile mower.

An automobile lawn mower has been added to the equipment of the superintendent of the Capitol's office, and just three days are now required to cut the forty acres of lawn surrounding the Capitol building, where heretofore it took ten days or two weeks. The problem of keeping the Capitol grass at an even height is one which enters seriously into the calculations of the superintendent's office, for the lawns are one of the striking features of the beauty of the city.

Hand mowers and scythes have heretofore done the work, and it has required a special force of workmen just for this work. No sooner would the grass cutting be done than it was nearly time to do it all over again, and the item of expense for this work has been far greater than one might suppose.

The auto mower cost the Government $1,500, but it will pay for itself, considering the expense previously involved in the work, in one season. It weighs 2,200 pounds and is moved by gasoline. The driver's seat is in the rear of the machine and just over a heavy roller which he can guide at will. The motor moves and works quickly, and it is estimated to be equal to fifteen or twenty men with hand mowers. The broad wheels roll, as well as cut, the grass.

BACON'S CHAUFFEUR CAUGHT BY COLLINS

Two Autoists Deposit $10
Each for Having No License.

After a short period of inactivity, Marshal Collins added another laurel or so to his wreath of fame yesterday afternoon, and when the day's work was done two hapless autoists had felt the sting of Glen Echo justice. 'Twas the irony of fate that one of these drove the machine of Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, who, it is averred, obtained from Attorney General Bonaparte that lengthy decision declaring that Collins and Mayor Garrett had no jurisdiction over the Conduit road.

Jack E. D. Coleman, chauffeur of the Assistant Secretary, was espied by the marshal as he guided through the town, and it was ordained at once that he should prove a martyr to the jurisdictional controversy now on between Glen Echo authorities and the Washington autoists. Coleman's speed was not especially objectionable, but the keen-eyed Collins noted the absence of the District of Columbia license, which made him suspicious. The mayor was sought and a confession was extracted from Coleman that although the machine showed Maryland license 1232, he had no chauffeur's license from the State.

He had to leave $10 to insure his appearance before the Rockville court. Fred Lyman, chauffeur for Assistant Secretary of State Newberry was in the machine with Coleman, and together the capture savored more of international complications than any recorded, since duces and ambassadors have ceased to use the Conduit.

The other chauffeur carried before his honor was J. D. Higgins, driving the Public Health and Marine Hospital automobile. The chauffeur had no Maryland license and was requested to leave $10.
